

I support strong Net Neutrality backed by Title 2 oversight of ISP's. The internet works when everyone has equal access to the same speeds. If verizon has a legal pathway to giving their own content network prioritization then that will hurt any potential startup in the future and hurt small business. The internet is too important to restrict or give extra access to some companies over others, which is why the Internet should be treated like any other utility. This is something any true supporter of small business should support.
